

Optimise the Capacity of your IT Infrastructure

with VMware™ from Celerity

Consolidation of your server platform to a VMware Virtual Environment reduces hardware footprint, power and cooling requirements whilst changing the operational efficiency of your server environment. Assessment of your IT resource utilisation can demonstrate how virtualisation optimises unused capacity, significantly lowers departmental costs and drives your company's commitment to a greener future.

Leveraging Your Investment in Virtualisation Technology

In today's world of complex IT infrastructures and the constant pressure to drive down costs, Virtualisation is an effective solution to simplify the complexity of a multi-server environment, utilising IT capacity more efficiently, improving service levels and streamlining your IT processes.

Celerity are an accredited VMware Capacity planning specialist and can analyse the performance of your existing server equipment. Evaluating the current IT resource utilisation across each of your servers, we will identify which servers have high capacity utilisation and which servers are under-utilised.

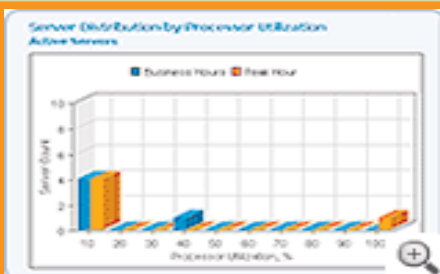

Once Celerity have achieved a thorough understanding of your server environment, recommendations can then be made to plan for capacity optimisation and the suitability of transferring your current IT infrastructure to a VMware virtualisation solution.
